

NEVADA is fast becoming a sheep State. The depression in the cattle market has had a tendency to drive many of the smaller and some of the larger dealers out of the business while Montana has been absorbing a great many cattle for the past year and a half. It has been clearly demonstrated the past few years that sheep will thrive where cattle will starve and they have been gradually encroaching on the territory until now it is generally conceded that in time they will take the State. Nevada wool commands a better price in the market than that from most any other section, and the sheep men have been making money while the cattle men have not kept even.

UNLESS all signs fail we shall have a hard winter. Long-continued heat in early summer has been usually followed by early and severe storms, continuing well into the winter. A severe winter is just what the country needs, but will work a hardship on many cattle men who have but short hay crops and whose ranges are suffering from the drouth, but unless we get severe storms this winter it will be good-bye to the cattle industry. Early storms are needed to furnish water and start the grass on the ranges, and if they do not come much suffering will occur among live stock.

FRED SEYMOUR of Findlay, Ohio, is dead. He had a process of extracting aluminum from clay. Governor Alger of Michigan and other rich men liked this process, and had spent an immense sum in building works for Mr. Seymour, who would take common Ohio clay, heat it to 1,500 degrees, and then, turning all the workmen out and locking the door, he would finish the work in secret and give Governor Alger a cake of aluminum. And now Seymour is dead, and no one else knows how to do it, and the Governor's aluminum factory is a bright memory only.

THE self-styled political weapon of the Comstock asks the GAZETTE to tell the Silver State who the men are that have manipulated the politics of this State for years past, saying "we will help you afterwards," but the GAZETTE fears that it does not fully realize the rash promise that it is making. The editorial "We" in the Enterprise means a good deal, and a snap of the finger from its owners would make Mr. Campbell hunt his hole in a hurry, and the "We" would mean "Us." Don't worry neighbor, you will hear it in time.

NEW YORK appears to mean business in the matter of a world's fair in 1892, to celebrate the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America, and if the project once takes definite shape all records will pretty certainly be broken in the line of international exhibitions. There is "business" in this sort of thing, and it will not lag like the Grant monument fund and other public enterprises which have no money in them for Gotham.

THE flag used to drape the casket of President Lincoln is encased and hangs in the private office of the Secretary of War. General Drum took care of the flag after the rites had been conducted and took it to Washington.

THE consumption of sugar in the United States is fifty pounds to every man, woman and child. In Great Britain it is seventy-three pounds per head. Our total consumption is 3,000,000,000 pounds a year, so that a fraction of a cent a pound means a large sum to the sugar trust.

WE have just discovered a new localism in the technology of railroading. The New England papers say "The brakeman was injured while 'shackling' cars." Elsewhere it is known as "coupling."

PURGED of Contempt. New York, July 29.—Stephen W. Dorsey having purged himself of contempt of court, by appearing at the supplementary proceedings in the matter of the Nevada Bank of San Francisco, the ex-Senator was spared the necessity of appearing before Judge O'Brien in the Supreme Court to-day.

Danger of Buying African Diamonds of Unlicensed Dealers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.]

The Government Elated.

PARIS, July 29.—Noon. The returns from the election for Councilors General are received from 813 Cantons. In these, 468 Republicans, 245 Conservatives and eleven Boulangists were elected. In eighty-nine Cantons a second ballot will be necessary. The Government is jubilant.

Still Unsettled.

CHICAGO, Ju 29.—The constitutional Executive Committee considered only unimportant passenger traffic questions this morning. A prominent member says the differentials are still held under consideration. He feels assured an agreement will be reached, and the association saved from disruption.

Americans Warned.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Consul Hollis of Cape Town, Africa, writes to the State Department, warning United States citizens who visit the South African gold diggings not to buy diamonds of any except licensed dealers, as a stringent law has been passed, punishing with long terms of imprisonment the buyers of stolen stones. Under this law two American citizens, Isaac Levy and Fred Nelson, the latter of Boston, have been condemned.

The Law Defied.

CINCINNATI, July 29.—The cases of the saloon keepers who were arrested for violating the Owen law yesterday were called in the Police Court to-day and bonds were given for their appearance for trial. The saloon keepers' mass meeting, which resolved to defy the law yesterday, also resolved that those who should be arrested should meet this morning and march to the Police Court with music. That resolution was not carried out.

Destructive Forest Fire.

Special to the GAZETTE.
CINCO, Cal., July 29.—Large forest fires are raging on the Humboldt road, eighteen miles from Chico. The fire has burnt over a district four miles in length, and is sweeping everything before it; much valuable timber has been destroyed. The people are fighting the fire and expect to get it under control to-day.

An Indiscreet Exclamation.

DUBLIN, July 29.—Dr. Tanner, a member of Parliament, was sentenced to-day at Tipperary to a month's imprisonment for insulting Police Inspector Stephens in May last. When judgment was pronounced he cried out: "I defy you, the Magistracy are the real criminals." For this, three months were added to the sentence.

Death of a Noted Civil Engineer.

FARMINGTON, Maine, July 29.—Daniel Breedy died this morning, aged 78. He was a noted civil engineer and bridge builder. He built various large flour and quartz mills in New Mexico, California and other places in the Western States, besides a large number of bridges.

Received by the Lord Mayor.

LONDON, July 29.—The Massachusetts Rifle Team was received to-day by the Lord Mayor of London.

A Ship-Building Enterprise

Special to the GAZETTE.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Theodore Cramp, a member of a Philadelphia ship-building firm, leaves here this afternoon for Tacoma, where he will embark for Alaska. On his return he will visit the British naval station at Esquimault on Vancouver Island. The evening Post says it has been reported here that Mr. Cramp is forming a company of American capitalists for the purpose of purchasing this yard from the British Government. It is stated that a syndicate has already been formed in the East with a subscribed capital of $4,000,000, and that negotiations are pending for a purchase of the yard and docks. The purchase price is said to be about a million and a half dollars. The syndicate is said to have a number of prominent ship-building firms as its principal supporters. It is understood that the British Government had discovered that the Esquimault yards are inadequate for their original purpose.

A Smoky Atmosphere.

DENVER, Col., July 29.—All yesterday and to-day a smoky atmosphere has hung over Denver and is giving the sun the appearance of a red ball of fire. Information received from all parts of the State, Wyoming, northern New Mexico and western Kansas and Nebraska indicate that the same condition exists. As it is too early for Indian summer, the impression is created that it is caused by immense forest fires somewhere in the Rocky Mountains, probably in Montana. It is reported from Ogden that a large forest fire is raging near Mountain Home, Montana.

LONDON, July 27.—The Shah is about to depart from England. He bade farewell to the Queen to-day.

GREAT LOSS OF POWER.

Immense Waste in Large Manufacturing Factories.

The Westinghouse Machine Company recently sent experts equipped with the necessary instruments to visit a number of prominent manufacturing establishments in various parts of the country to test the consumption of power by each machine. As a rule, permission was readily obtained from the owners, their seeming much interested in the results, which are amusingly indicative of the carelessness shown in such matters. Nearly all were found to be wasting one-half their engine's power in doing other than useful work. One prominent establishment was wasting 65 per cent. of its fuel and power; another was wasting 73 per cent., thus leaving only 27 per cent. of the engine's power to earn money with. Another celebrated firm, known all over the West, was using a 60-horse power engine, of which 55-horse power was being consumed in dead work; thus leaving just 5-horse power with which to produce goods for sale.

Mistook Him for a Gentleman.

"Will you pass me the butter, please?" asked a stranger of a snob at a restaurant table.
"That's the waiter over there, sir," was the supercilious reply.
"I beg your pardon," returned the stranger, "I did make a mistake."
"You're only adding insult, sir," broke in the snob; "nothing could induce me to believe that you mistook me for a waiter!"
"Certainly not," returned the stranger, "I mistook you for a gentleman."

Dead Shot on Mosquitoes.

To expel mosquitoes, the Scientific American advises, take of gum camphor a piece about one-third the size of a hen's egg and evaporate it by placing it in a tin vessel and holding it over a lamp, taking care that it does not ignite. The smoke will soon fill the room and expel the mosquitoes, and they will not return even though the windows should be left open all night.

THE FUN OF YANKEELAND.

Old Jed Prouty of Bucksport Personated on the Stage.

Up to some fifteen years ago there lived in Bucksport, Maine, according to local tradition, a great-hearted, keen-witted old Yankee, named Jedediah Prouty, whose deeds and sayings were the talk of every circle for miles around. He ran an old-fashioned tavern in an old-fashioned way, so peculiar to himself that no one would undertake to continue the establishment after his death in 1873; hence it passed away with him. Among the old fellow's assistants in that tavern was a youth named Richard Golden. Young Golden was repeatedly charged by the old man with being a better hotel clerk than "tavern assistant," and was ultimately found guilty on this count and sentenced to quit the tavern for the natural term of his life. Despite this visitation Mr. Golden has ever entertained the kindest sentiments toward the aged inn-keeper, and now seeks to perpetuate the old fellow's good memory through the medium of the new play that is announced for production in Reno on Thursday evening of this week at McKisick's Opera House under the title of "Old Jed Prouty." Mr. Golden to impersonate the title role himself. The company and scenery to appear here will be the same that were lately seen at the new California Theater, San Francisco, and at the new Union Square Theater, New York. While the play is familiarly named after Mr. Prouty, it is said to aim at portraying only the old Yankee's best qualities, with the laudable object of demonstrating to the world, through the agency of the stage, that the "Down-Easter" is not such a fool as he is usually represented to be. On the contrary, Old Jed Prouty's "Yankee heart" is likely to win the same amount of admiration that his native Yankee wit has done. The play presents him as the hero of an authentic incident in Bucksport history. The tale is claimed to be most poetic in its feeling, and this without in any way sacrificing the comedy of the plot.

A GRUMBLER CAUGHT.

He Complains of People Who Send Away for Their Groceries and Gives Himself away.

A GAZETTE reporter stepped into a grocery house in this town and engaged in a conversation with the proprietor. The merchant said the trouble with this town was that too many people sent below for their supplies and did not patronize home merchants. After listening to the merchant scold those who send away for their goods, he cast his eye over to the merchant's desk and saw letter heads, bill heads and statements which had been printed below. The reporter asked him if he did not think it was as fair for the people to send away for their groceries as it was for him to send away for his printing. With a startled expression on his face the merchant asked how the reporter knew it. After quite an animated conversation the reporter succeeded in convincing him that he not only could get his work done as cheaply at home, but cheaper, and the growler went off to hate himself for giving himself away. It happens so nine times out of ten that the very people who complain of sending away do the very same thing themselves.

W. T. C. ELLIOTT.

His Health Suffering from His Long Confinement.

Sheriff Eldred of Inyo county, Cal., has kind words to say of his prisoner, W. T. C. Elliott, now under sentence of death for the murder of John B. White. The Sheriff says Elliott is well conducted, and gives as little trouble as could be expected. During the past weeks of very hot weather Elliott's health has suffered; the Sheriff does all in his power to make his charge as comfortable as possible, but the cells of the jail are so small and close that no one can be confined there without injury to the health. The case of Elliott is still pending before the Supreme Court on appeal.

The State Fair.

The members of the Agricultural Society Directory are putting forth every effort to make the Fair this Fall the best we have ever had, and should be encouraged to the extent of liberal patronage at least. President Winters, with the help of other members, has gotten up a very interesting speed ring contest for every day of the week. The premiums the Society offers for the exhibition of livestock are liberal, and will undoubtedly attract much attention in all parts of this State, and California as well.

The Hot Weather.

With the exception of a few cool days, Reno has never experienced so long a stretch of hot weather as at the present time, and the past few days have been so much hotter than any we had before that we hardly know what to look for next. Yesterday throughout the town the thermometer ranged from 103° to 105°, and at Winfrey's ranch, a mile and a half east of Reno, the mercury stood 107° all the afternoon in the coolest place about the house.

Clean Up the River.

The river is full of drift—edgings and slabs—between here and Truckee, and the GAZETTE would suggest to the Board of Commissioners that inasmuch as on the 1st of September the laws prohibiting the further dumping of mill debris into the river goes into effect, now would be a good time to clean it up. It could all be burned now and clean the river of all such litter at a trifling expense.

Yearling Steers Wanted.

A gentleman writes the GAZETTE from Grand Junction, Col., that he wants to buy from three to five thousand yearling steers. Any one having any to sell will confer a favor by communicating with this office.

The funeral of the late J. T. Reed at the Methodist Church yesterday was largely attended by the many friends of the deceased and the bereaved family.

If hot weather has anything to do with the successful cultivation of citrus fruits the GAZETTE can see no reason why they should not do well here, in fact, Abraham Bros. are talking of starting an orange grove in Sierra Valley, and if it does not thrive, it won't be on account of the weather not being warm enough. Since the 1st of June we have had warm weather until now it is hardly possible to Oh, for a shower to cool the atmosphere.

WELL-MERITED RECOGNITION.

Resolutions of Esteem Passed by the Methodist Conference.

Rev. G. W. DeLaMaty, who for five years has held the responsible position of Superintendent of the Nevada Mission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, on resigning that office at the Conference held in Carson recently, was voted a handsome testimonial by a subscription list circulated among the preachers over whom he has presided for so long. A gold watch, it is stated, has been ordered, which is to be appropriately engraved and sent to the worthy brother. In addition to this substantial token of appreciation, the following resolution was unanimously passed in open session:

WHEREAS, Our beloved brother, George W. DeLaMaty, has felt compelled to resign the office of Superintendent of the Nevada Mission, that he may care for a beloved wife in failing health, and an aged father, just waiting to pass to the reward of the faithful; be it

Resolved, That we cannot let pass the opportunity of testifying to the high esteem in which we hold him. During the five years he has held the office of Superintendent we have learned to admire him as a man, to respect him as a counselor, to regard him as a hero, and to love him as a brother. He has been abundant in labors, has been diligent in his every year to visit our charges as often as possible, has helped to heal divisions, has preached with great acceptance and power, has counseled wisely, and has won the affection and esteem not only of members of our churches, but also of the communities of his vast field, so that no face is more welcome in hundreds of homes from Lakeview, Oregon at the north, to Independence, California at the west, to Eureka, Nevada, at the east than that of "Brother DeLaMaty." We have noted with regret that the meager pension he has received from the Mission Fund has not paid his traveling expenses, and that the remuneration our charges have been able to make him has been so small that he has been compelled every year to draw to the extent of hundreds of dollars on the means that had providentially come to him as a protection from the giant wolf of poverty in old age. Our prayer to God is that his father's end may be peace, that his devoted wife's health may be fully restored, that his children may follow his Godly example, and that he may long be spared to be found in the future as in the years of the past about his Father's business.

Mr. DeLaMaty still receives his apportionment from the Bishop. This year his name appears in the list as "Financial Agent of Inyo Academy, Bishop, California." Owens River Valley is to be congratulated on receiving such a citizen. During the eight years he has made his home in Reno, he and his family have endeared themselves to hundreds of hearts, both in and out of his own communion, who are all sorry to have them remove from the town, but who all wish them health, prosperity and happiness in their new home.

Baseball at Essex.

ESSEX, Nev., July 28, 1889.
 EDITOR GAZETTE: The Essex and Reno nines played an interesting game of ball here this afternoon, resulting in a complete clean-up of the Essex club. It is not necessary to mention the tally of the game, as the Renos would feel too proud, and the Essex boys would feel ashamed of themselves.

SOME GOOD SUGGESTIONS.

Eleven Things Which Discreet Girls Should Observe.

The Yankee Blade contains the following sensible rules:

Don't allow yourself to be under obligations to any man.

Don't discuss your family affairs in general conversation.

Don't give your photographs to men, and don't ask them for theirs.

Don't make yourself conspicuous at any time by loud laughing or talking.

Don't fail to try to always be frank and just and generous and above all, womanly.

Don't wear an evening dress to a quiet afternoon reception; don't go without a hat or a bonnet.

Don't think it necessary to bow to a man you have met to a ball or a party, afterward, unless you want to continue the acquaintance.

Don't write, except when it can't be avoided, to men. Make all your notes acknowledging courtesies, etc., short and to the point.

Don't offer to shake hands when a man is introduced to you, and don't think it necessary when he says good-bye unless he first extends his.

Don't allow any man to treat you with anything but the greatest respect. Resist as an impertinence, any approach to familiarity of speech or action.

Don't boast that you do not read the newspapers, as many girls do now-days. Do not think it necessary to read all the daily and weekly journals contain, but keep yourself posted on art, literary, social and political topics of the day.

First a Pigmy—Then a Giant.

We are too apt to regard a small amount much as we would some pigmy, unpleasant of aspect and rankish indeed, but incapable of serious mischief. We ignore the fact that it grows prodigiously, strengthens in proportion, and begets evil progeny. A fit of indigestion, a slight bilious attack, sensations of unrest and languor when the system should have been braced by recent sleep, unaccountable nervousness, inactivity of the kidneys or bladder—what are these but the precursors of obstinate and serious bodily disturbance? In either of the above emergencies, common sense and experience unite in indicating Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as the best preventive. Particularly should its use be prompt when the languor, evening chilliness down the back, and feverishness that precede a malarial attack, manifest themselves. Incipient rheumatism grows apace. Don't neglect it. So with constipation and debility.

TRUCKEE ITEMS.

Feed Drying Up—Frank Champion Better—Carson Baseball Club's Want of Courtesy.

The Truckee Republican of the 27th inst. says:

The feed in the mountains is fast drying up.

Professor Howe and family of Carson are stopping at Scott's Soda Springs.

Frank Champion has so far recovered from his recent injury as to be able to walk down town.

It seems to be impossible to get a ball game between the Truckee and Carson clubs. The Carson club has not even the courtesy to reply to a proposition to play.

Hereafter there will be no fun in going to jail and it would be well for those who disturb the peace, sell whisky to Indians, and commit crimes to remember that they will have to work out their fines.

The Supervisors have made the following order: It was ordered that hereafter when any prisoners are confined in the county jail under judgment of conviction of misdemeanor, the Supervisors shall work them, with ball and chain attached to their persons, upon the public grounds, buildings, roads and highways as may be deemed advisable, under the direction of some responsible person. The Sheriff was ordered to deliver the prisoners into the charge of such person as might be elected by the Board.

Bridge Collisions.

A number of seismograph observations of value have been made on the new Tay bridge by Prof. Ewing of the Dundee College. The instrument, which was placed on the southernmost portion of the great girders, records the vibration during the whole time the train is on the bridge, and it appears that as the train crosses at the Dundee end, one and one-half miles away, oscillations of 1-100th of an inch are observable, increasing as the train advances to a maximum of one-half an inch.

Knew His Business.

"It is no use telling you to look pleasant," said the photographer to the pretty young lady as he prepared to unmask his camera, "for you cannot look anything else than pleasant." And this observation so pleased her that she smiled all over and the picture was a great success.

A WOMAN'S WAY.

A Sta-tling Business Proposition.

When Mrs. Fowler, of 127 Ellis street, stopped in at a leading city druggist's to ask what effect "The California Remedy," Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, would have in cases of dyspepsia and sick headaches, she was assured it would relieve both. She was so incredulous that the druggist gave her a bottle, not to be paid for unless it effected a cure. The following is the concluding conclusion.

San Francisco, February 8, 1888.

Dear Sir: Notwithstanding my misgivings, Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did all that you promised. I had tried so many prescriptions that I had come to believe nothing would relieve my dyspepsia and sick headaches, but I have not had a return of either since. I believe I am permanently cured. You have my permission to make this public, for a remedy that will cure dyspepsia and prevent sick headaches should be generally known. Respectfully,

Mrs. M. Fowler.
